Requirements for Departmental Scholar in Communication:
The Honors Program in communication gives an opportunity for a student to achieve an additional level of intellectual growth and a satisfaction of accomplishment. A student engages in independent research and writing, under the supervision of a member of the communication faculty, and participates in special honors classes, seminars, and colloquia.

To enter the Honors Program, a student must possess a 3.5 minimum grade-point average on all academic work and receive the recommendation of a faculty member in communication to the Honors Council of Fulbright College. A student may pursue an independent research program of a historical, critical, descriptive, or experimental nature, within any of the areas of rhetorical or communication theory, history of public address, interpersonal, small-group, or organizational communication, persuasion, argumentation, political communication, freedom of speech, communication education, or in any closely related areas of inquiry. A student interested in mass communications, broadcasting, or film may choose to pursue either a research project or a creative study. In addition to satisfying the general college and departmental requirements for a bachelor’s degree, a student must satisfy departmental honors requirements, which include the following:
- Become an honors candidate no later than the second semester of the junior year of study
- Enroll in COMM 399V, Honors Course, a minimum of one hour of credit each semester during the junior-senior years
- Achieve a 3.5 minimum grade-point average in communication
- Take at least 12 honors hours, which may include 6 hours of thesis in Honors Studies
- Write and defend before a faculty examining committee a thesis based on the investigative or creative project undertaken in COMM 399V.

1 Honors students who take University Chemistry I (1103/1101L) as a regular course followed by Honors University Chemistry II (CHEM 1123H/1121M/1120E) receive 6 hours of Honors science credit. Honors students who complete Chemistry for Majors will receive Honors credit.
