

Tuesday, Nov 5, 2013

4:00 - 5:30 p.m.

SCEN 101

PUBLIC LECTURE: JEROME CROWDER

"Biomedicine as Ethnomedicine: Case Studies from the Andes"

Sponsored by Latin American and Latino Studies

Topic:

Health care at the nexus of biomedicine and ethnomedical beliefs
in Bolivia and Peru

Picture Title: "Luis the son, May 2007" - Jerome Crowder

*Jerome W. Crowder, Ph.D.
Associate Professor and Associate Director University of Texas Medical Branch*

Dr. Crowder has worked extensively in Bolivia and Peru, as well as in Houston, Texas.

He will discuss how the health care dilemma in the Andes is related to that of the Latino migrants and underserved populations in Houston, Texas.

