Dr. Riad Ismat is an award-winning Syrian playwright and diplomat. He was forced to flee Syria in 2012 as a result of the country’s civil war. In his lecture, he will elaborate on his personal journey on the literary scene in Syria. The lecture is part of International Education Week.